

GLOBAL GEOPOLITICAL TURMOIL

Lieutenant General (Ret.) Associate Professor Constantin MINCU, PhD*

Abstract: The author considers that after the outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic, which since May 2020 resulted globally in some millions of infected and some thousands of dead people, the issue of global security and humanity rescue must become a priority for political leaders around the world and for all citizens interested in their future and that of their descendants.*

By presenting in this article some cynical and irresponsible statements made by some political leaders and individuals responsible in the high sphere of finance and corporations leaders is intended to raise awareness, once again, of the deadly danger looming over humanity.

Also, the terrifying content of Jacques Attali book “A Short History of the Future” of which I managed to present only short passages shows that the threat is real and very close in time.

The question is who can oppose and with what forces!?

Keywords: geopolitical turmoil, COViD-19, Jacques Attali, super-empire, hyper-conflict.*

In November 2019, I sent to the Publishing House of the Romanian Scientists Academy the article “Global Geopolitical Chaos”¹, where, based on the study of some views and analyses of foreign and Romanian authors I evaluated, with my modest scientific means, the geopolitical developments of the last five years, which took place on the complicated and hectic world stage.

No politician, analyst or ordinary citizen foreseen that in less than two months the world will enter a major medical crisis as the one triggered by the COVID-19 epidemic that started in China (Wuhan). The epidemic
